LOCATION OVERVIEW

2470 Daniells Bridge Road is located off of Mars Hill Road in Oconee County, GA. It is situated just over .5 miles away from Hwy 316 which travels West into Atlanta, and .8 miles to where it becomes Hwy 78 traveling into Athens and the entrance to the Loop/Route 10. Mars Hill Road begins at Butlers Crossing in Watkinsville and extends North crossing over Route 316/Hwy 78 where it becomes the Oconee Connector and terminates at its intersection with Epps Bridge Road in Athens. It is a major traffic route carrying residents to and from several retail & business districts and is home to many major medical facilities like University Vascular, Georgia Skin Cancer & Dermatology and the new location for University Cancer & Blood Center.

MARKET DATA

The area within a five-mile radius of 2470 Daniells Bridge Road benefits from strong demographics and a robust economic base. The surrounding population exceeds 73,000 with nearly 30,000 households, and median household income averages about $69,400—well above state averages.

Expanding into Oconee County, the income profile skews even higher, with countywide household income approaching $116,000. This blend of Athens' growing professional base and Oconee's affluent residential community creates a favorable environment for medical, office, and service-oriented businesses.

The local economy is anchored by major employers such as the University of Georgia, Piedmont Athens Regional, and St. Mary's Health Care System, with the nearby St. Mary's Wellness campus directly fueling demand for medical office space.

Oconee County has also experienced steady development activity, with new retail, medical, and mixed-use projects along Daniells Bridge Road, Mars Hill Road, and the Highway 316 corridor.

This combination of economic drivers, a highly educated workforce, and strong household income levels positions the Daniells Bridge submarket as a resilient and desirable location for commercial investment and tenancy.

TRAFFIC DATA

1 Mile Radius

3 Mile Radius

5 Mile Radius

The growth over the last decade in both Oconee and Clarke counties has been evident everywhere, but it has been most obvious in the area surrounding 2470 Daniell's Bridge Road.

Large commercial developments have brought an increase in traffic to the area and the housing shortage has prompted several new residential projects as well. As a result, Mars Hill Road from Watkinsville to the Oconee Connector was recently widened from two lanes to four.

In addition, many professional offices have relocated or expanded to the vicinity, recognizing that consumers prefer having their medical/professional providers, close to where they live, shop and play.

Hwy 316 where it meets Mars Hill Road sees upwards of 20,000 cars per day, with an average of 30,000 cars per day traveling the roads within a 3 mile radius.
